TERMS OF SALE

- 1) A 10% buyers charge will be added to the hammer price of each lot purchased.
- 2) All bids are per lot as numbered in this catalog.
- 3) We reserve the right to withdraw any lot prior to sale.
- 4) All successful bidders shall be billed for postage, handling and insurance.
- 5) NASCA reserves the right to reject any bids not made in good faith and further reserves the right to ban any bidder from participation in its sales for any reason deemed appropriate at our sole discretion.
- 6) A NASCA auction bidder expressly waves any claim or right to an accounting, damages or compensation arising out of NASCA's failure to receive or execute any bid due to exclusion from our sales, clerical errors or other causes. No bids will be accepted from any person who has not signed a registration form or a bidder sheet.
- 7) United States coins and currency will not, in conformity with law, be opened at less than the face value.
- 8) No "buy" or "unlimited" bids will be accepted. We will act as agents for all mail bidders in the sale. Mail bids will be opened at the next interval over the second highest bid except where the intrinsic or regular market worth of the item dictates an opening at its fair market value. Floor bidding intervals will have an average increment of about 5% at the discretion of the auctioneer.
- 9) In the case of a tie between a mail bidder on the book and the floor, the mail bidder shall take precedence.
- 10) All bids must be in whole dollar amounts; this includes percentage increases.
- 11) Check your bid sheets carefully. We can not assume any responsibility for errors made in the amount bid or lot numbers listed. Make sure your sheet is signed.
- 12) No minors may participate in our sales. Agents bidding on behalf of others will be held liable if their principals fail to make payment.
- 13) Payment for purchases is to be made in cash upon receipt of invoice. No lots may be taken away unless paid for in full. A late charge of 1½% per month will be charged on the invoice total if payment is not received within 10 days of mailing the invoice. Bidders not known to us are required to deposit 25% of their bids in advance.
- 14) Title does not pass until payment in full is received. NASCA reserves the right to await clearance of any check before making delivery.
- 15) If a collection agency attorney is required to collect outstanding accounts, all agency and court costs, witness and attorney fees and all other costs of any kind incurred by NASCA shall be borne by the defendant. The signer of a NASCA bid sheet or participant in the auction concedes the jurisdiction of the courts of New York State or the U.S. in New York City as NASCA alone shall elect. The participant in a NASCA auction also assumes both corporate and personal liability for unpaid auction bills.
- 16) New York State sales taxes or other state sales or use taxes shall be levied, as required by law. Dealers and other non residents are reminded that sales tax must be collected unless Form ST-128.1 has been filed properly, under regulations effective 1 December 1982.

- 17) NASCA may reopen the bidding on a lot under the following circumstances: 1) NASCA has failed to execute correctly a mail bid. 2) A party purchasing the lot on the floor has done so in error. 3) Where a protest is made after the hammer has fallen but before the bidding has commenced on the next lot. 4) Where the auctioneer has determined that he has overlooked a party still bidding on the lot but before the calling of the next lot. 5) At the discretion of the Auctioneer.
- 18) In the event of a dispute, the auctioneer's decision is final.

GUARANTEES AND RIGHTS OF RECOVERY

- 19) No price adjustments will be made on the hammer price of a lot whether there is a complaint about the whole lot or only one item in it. The entire lot must be returned if a refund is to be made.
- 20) Persons placing bids are responsible for meeting the maximum amounts represented on their bid sheets. NASCA reserves the right to reject frivolous complaints and to take appropriate actions against such bidders under paragraphs 5 and 15 above.
- 21) All material in this catalog is guaranteed to be genuine unless otherwise described.
- 22) No lots may be returned by floor bidders except for non-authenticity.
- 23) Mail bidders may return lots for reasons of non-authenticity or improper description within 5 days of receipt or thirty days from the auction's last day, whichever comes first. Failure to execute this privilege in a timely manner either from a failure to pay promptly or from any other cause shall void it.
- 24) In cases where a question has arisen as to the authenticity of an item, the purchaser must, before settlement day (30 days after the sale), notify NASCA of his intention to return the item, confirmed in writing. The item will be examined by a recognized expert; if the item proves authentic, the sale will be consummated. If the item is not authentic, the sale price will be refunded.
- 25) In the event of unsuccessful litigation the plaintiff shall pay NASCA's legal costs, counsel and witness fees and all other costs incurred by it in defense against such suit together with interest on any funds expended at the New York prime rate from the date of actual disbursement.
- 26) The same protections applicable to NASCA apply to each and every one of their officers and employees unless they shall be convicted of knowingly selling false or stolen goods.
- 27) NASCA assumes no liability for merchandise lost, stolen or damaged while in the possession of a party to whom merchandise has been shipped. The purchaser is solely responsible for the safe keeping and insurance of any items in their possession.
- 28) All accounts are payable to NASCA in U.S. funds and remittances must cover the service charges for foreign drafts which shall be added to each invoice. No credit card payments will be received by NASCA for auction sales, catalogs or other monies due to NASCA.
- 29) The placing of a bid shall constitute full acceptance of the foregoing terms and conditions of sale.

6th President of the U.S., he was also an American Minister, U.S. Senator, Secretary of State (1817-25), Abolitionist Congressman (1831-48). DS. Folio, May 12, 1828. U.S. Landgrant drawn to William H. Gibbs of Alabama. Adams was one of the last Presidents to sign such grants, the volumes of sales under his successor, Jackson, grew to the point where his nephew and Secretary signed for him. Usual folds, on parchment.

2 ADAMS, JOHN QUINCY ★($200-Up)

Printed LS, as Secretary of State. 1 page folio, November 13, 1820. To the editors of a Providence, RI, newspaper, advising that their journal had been selected to publish certain government laws and regulations; the text discusses in detail procedures for publication and for billing the government. An interesting reflection of government patronage to a presumably friendly newspaper. Marginal repairs, and two tiny holes that affect a few letters of the printed text. Otherwise Fine. Adams has made a few holograph changes in the text.

ALS, signed in full in the first line of text. 1 page 4to, Washington, May 16, 1846, to Mrs. John Petit of Indiana, presenting his compliments to her and thanking her for the "beautiful and fragrant bouquet, which he found this morning on the table at his feet in the House of Representatives...and he prays her to be assured that no reward ever received by him for public service or private works can be more precious in his remembrance than that now received from her hand." Fine condition. Mrs. Petit was probably the wife of Congressman John Petit of Indiana who was in Congress at this time, and later became a Senator. The letter is attractively framed in a bright blue mat with an engraving of Adams and a gilt frame.

4 ADAMS, JOHN QUINCY ($225-300)

DS as president, Public land sale certificate. 1 page folio, Washington, August 6, 1825. Nibbled edges, partly printed document, slightly faded writing with a bold signature.

He adds "The sun in the American horizon (sic) shines bright for our Independence"; David Porter, Civil War Naval Officer; Frederick Baetjer, Physician who was a pioneer in X-ray diagnosis. [25]

8 AMERICAN REVOLUTION, MASSACHUSETTS ★($250-Up)

Scarce printed broadside, 4 to February 19, 1779, containing the text of a Resolve of the State of Massachusetts Bay, House of Representatives. Calls on the people of the State to vote on whether or not they choose to accept the new Constitution of Form of Civil Government "which was proposed by the late Convention of this State to the People thereof [having] been disapproved by a Majority of the Inhabitants of said State...." Signed in type by John Pickering, Speaker; and by John Avery, Deputy Secretary. Some very light water-staining, folds repaired with tissue on verso; two small holes in lower blank area;. Still fine appearance for a broadside of this period.

9 AMPERE, ANDRE MARIE, 1775-1836 ★($500-Up)

French physicist. Formulated principles of electrodynamics, including law on force between two electric currents—Ampere's law. Other inventions included astatic needle which paved the way for the invention of the astatic galvanometer. The ampere (or simply amp), the unit of electric current, is named for him. 1 page ALS, framed with portrait, overall size 20" x 15", Paris, August 26, 1827 to unidentified person, requesting permission for a former student to use a certain library.

10 ANTHONY, SUSAN B., 1820-1906 ★($400-Up)

ALS, with the initials "S.B.A.", as Vice President at Large of the Association, on their imprinted letterhead. 2 pages, large 8vo, Rochester, N.Y., October 25, 1891. To Adelaide [Johnston], the American artist, concerning the progress of the sculptures commissioned by and of the suffrage committee, and the intricate financing of the project. She writes: "We are beginning to feel anxious about the heavy box—because we do get word of its arrival in Washington... Then no one has called for pay for casting the bust. Anna & I went to the Institute yesterday, but found Mr. Colby not there. The carpenter charged $1.27 I think and is paid. Anna banked the $5 you left with her. As I said before, I think you should pay all these preliminary expenses on Mrs. Stanton's bust out of the fund money raised for the purpose....Mrs. Stanton is still at Geneva, but is expecting to leave there soon. I am hoping not only to hear from your own dear self, [but] from our precious friend Mrs. Spofford. I want you to tell me exactly your impressions...." Quite fine.

I listened to him with such pride yesterday because he was your son & because in the midst of this hollow life he loves his wife so dearly. But it adds to my pleasure to know that when he speaks and when he lectures he is not condensed into the historical fact. General Cullum speaks with such abiding friendship of you....Your affectionate friend..." My dear Mr. Haines:

I have your letter of the 14th and write to advise, both you and Mr. Gash, of whom you speak, would be welcome to visit with us at any time convenient to you. However, I do not have any personal wish in the matter, for each individual should be guided by his own highest intuition in all things that concern him. I do not personally advise anyone what to do.

In reference to the cemetery referred to, I do not know of anyone who would be interested in it, nor in any other cemetery, for as far as MY Teaching is concerned relative to same, it is written:

"Let the dead bury their dead."

With best wishes, this leaves ME, as I AM ever Well, Healthy, Joyful, Peaceful, Lively, Loving, Successful, Prosperous and Happy in Spirit, Body and Mind and in every organ, muscle, sinew, joint, limb, vein and bone and even in every ATOM, fibre and cell of MY BODILY FORM.

EXCERPTS FROM MEMORIAL ADDRESS ON THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
DELIVERED BY HONORABLE WARREN G. HARDING, JANUARY 29, 1919.

"Perhaps his greatest work apart from his appealing Americanism, and yet a vital part of it, was his crusade for a new order of things, a new conscience in the Republic. We can appraise him now in the aftermath of fuller understanding, and even those who most violently opposed him must confess his great part in an essential awakening. He did four years of arousing and uprooting. His far-seeing vision detected a dangerous drift. He cried out for governmental assertion of authority, lest government itself should be the governed. In his seat he was the radical, as all crusaders are, but when he saw the business conscience of America awakened, he gladly welcomed constructive supersEDURE. He was really less the radical than he oftentimes appeared, and sometimes spoke radically against his own judgment. The greatest blunder of his career was made in this very chamber when he addressed the Constitutional Convention of 1912. He came against his own judgment and in yielding to insistent advice declared for the recall of judicial decisions. It is not surprising that one of his energy and courage should blunder, particularly in a period of tremendous conflict and crusading zeal. It was a mark of his greatness that he instantly recovered, and lost little of his hold and none of the respect of the American people. He incurred violent enmities, but none ever called him an unfair opponent. He struck as he spoke, straight from the shoulder, and he practised as he preached. In his virile American manhood he was the surpassing and inspiring example. In the fulness of mental and physical vigor, he was the great patriotic sentinel, pausing the parapet of the republic, alert to danger and every menace and in love with duty and service and always unafraid.

"It is little to say that the republic is bigger and better and mightily advanced by his part in its glorious history, more American for his call to patriotism and more secure for his warning of peril. It is more to say he inspired those who follow to nobler manhood and higher ideals.

"It didn't seem quite in harmony with his untiring activity and unhampered soul that its flame should fail in the quiet of slumber, but it was peace valiantly and triumphantly won, and the flame he lighted burned afresh and will light the way of a people whom he loved and who loved him as a great American."

The Young Men's Christian Association has been a tower of moral strength in every community since the earliest childhood recollections of most of the men and women now living, and thus it is almost startling to be reminded that the founder of this great organization, if he were living today, would be only 84 years older than a centenarian. The celebration of Founders' Day on October 11th will be the occasion for much historic and personal reminiscence of that great man, George Williams, and of the stupendous spiritual, educational and material blessings wrought by the association born of his vision and firmly rooted in his indefatigable labors and his optimistic spirit. To the youth of our land, indeed of all the world, it will be a day reminding them of the possibilities of service to millions of others that lie in unselfish application of spiritual insight, devoted industry and warm good-will toward all one's fellow-men.

The celebration of Founder's Day on October 11th will be the occasion for much historic and personal reminiscence of that great man, George Williams, and of the stupendous spiritual, educational and material blessings wrought by the association born of his vision..."

It might be worth while digging up the recommendations of the nationwide Land Use Conferences which were held under the direction of Secretary Hyde [Arthur M. Words cannot express Polly's and my disappointment that we shall not be here to see you in The Dark is Light Enough. I have not yet received a penney of it. This fact has caused me to go into debt in this country, since I am not able to live on a simple salary. I thought I should report this directly to Your majesty in the hope that after having learned the truth of the matter you would be kind enough to bring the scale of my remuneration to the level commensurate to that of civilian personnel and to the high cost of living that prevails in this country. I assure your Majesty that if I am seeking an increase in allotment, it is for the sole purpose of serving honourably and usefully in the post which you have entrusted to me." - 262 [PENNSYLVANIA] PRINTED BROADSIDE ★($300-Up)
Heading reads: "AN ACT To suspend the Sale of Lands for non-payment of Taxes and for other Purposes therein mentioned." Legal folio. Philadelphia, March 18, 1789. Yours &c. JNO. NICHOLSON / March 19th 1789". Addressed on verso to "The Commissioners of Lancaster County". One of the causes of Shay's Rebellion in Massachusetts at this same time was that farmers were losing their land because they were unable to pay taxes. Political leaders in Pennsylvania were wiser and passed this Act as a temporary relief. (However, when it came to strong drink, they weren't so wise, as evidenced by the Whiskey Rebellion in that State.) Interesting historical broadside!

SANDRINGHAM NORFOLK

Dear Mrs. Davis,

How very kind you are to send us the lovely flowers at Christmas - I feel and please are most encouraging and we do thank you so very much.

You and Archie have always been so generous with your gift and I am very touched you should have thoughts of us.

Rare, and wonderful in the Melton and I have so many memories of his kindness when I go to see the polo play more, the majority of which were his. I hope we can all keep the Windsor team going!

Yours sincerely
Elizabeth R

Si on la fait faire au moins 1 à 2 minutes de gonflement, si les angles dynamométriques augmentent, l'effusion de mucus apparaît (l'carbonat de fer) à la dose de 34 à 36 grains par jour durant plusieurs mois pourtant aucun dommage

2: Nulle torture toujours établie avec un reste d'aggrégat n'aura pas de mal dû à plusieurs mois et plus habilement une certaine reddition, mais toujours prolongé, jusqu'à l'absorption et à la reprendre plusieurs fois dans la journée.
